 Fees include drinks, lunch and seminar materials*

In our one-day ECLASS introductory seminars, you will receive a comprehensive introduction to the cross-industry, multilingual classification and product description standard ECLASS.

You will learn about the ECLASS organization, release and language management as well as the licensing model. Based on successful customer projects, you will learn about different implementation variants. We will give you insights into content development, an overview of the data model and how to use the standard. In the subsequent Q&A session, we can discuss any open questions.
